

An Early Display of Dependable Furs

We want to emphasize particularly that word "dependable"—all of the Furs in this store are of dependable quality. We might add that these Furs were bought very early, while prices were low, and whenever we are able to effect a saving in our purchases—which happens quite often—we pass our savings on to you.

Miss Harriet Bover is spending a few days with relatives in Randolph.

Mrs. Dora Aldrich of Northfield was among the business visitors in Barre yesterday.

Miss Kathleen Miles of West street has commenced work as stenographer in the D. M. Miles Coal Co. office.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bertrand left last night for Montreal, P. Q., where they are making a visit of several days.

R. S. Redfield returned to his home in Newark, N. Y., to-day after spending several days in Barre and Montpelier on business.

Charles A. Caron of the City bakery has returned home, after having attended the annual meeting of the tri-state bakers in Portland, Me.

The ladies' aid society of the Swedish Baptist church will meet in the Worthen block Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Don't forget to drop in.

Mrs. S. A. Gossberg, who has been visiting friends on the Plainfield road during the past two weeks, returned to her home in Burlington last night.

Aloysius Beck, a former resident of Barre, has returned to his home in St. Johnsbury, after visiting at the home of his uncle on Branch street.

Joseph D. Walker, a well known St. Johnsbury monument retailer, returned to his home yesterday, after passing a few days in the city on business.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Mackay, who were married in this city ten days ago, returned this morning from a trip to Boston and New York. They are making their home at 48 Wellington street.

An item in the Springfield news of the Springfield Reporter of Oct. 13, announces the marriage in that place on Oct. 5, by Rev. H. A. Parkhurst, of Frank Carlton of Barre and Sarah Whitcomb of West Fairlee.

William Fowler of Eastern avenue will return to-morrow from New York, where he accompanied his brother, Joseph Fowler, who is sailing to-day on the American liner, St. Louis, for his former home in Scotland.

Miss Abbie C. Moxley, a member of the faculty at Bellows Falls academy in Fairfax, who has been attending the state teachers' convention in Burlington, is making a week-end visit at her home on Park street.

David Wylie of Summer street left last night for Boston, where he will visit friends for a few days. On his return to Barre he will be accompanied by Mrs. Wylie, who has been visiting relatives in Boston and Quincy.

Henry H. Papin, who has been visiting his brothers, J. J. Papin and John Papin, has returned to his home in Burlington. Mr. Papin was accompanied by George H. Wilder, who has been a patient in the Barre City hospital.

Saturday's special at the New England Fruit Store include the delicious new cocoanut-chocolate creation, maple toasted cocoanut at 35c per lb.; old-fashioned molasses candy at 15c per lb., and assorted cream kisses, fresh from the kettle, in four flavors, at 15c.

John Sedor of Division street and John Hale of Hale street left this morning for Hanover, N. H., where they are to be the guests of Nelson Brown through the week-end. This afternoon they are to witness the football game between Dartmouth and Massachusetts State college.

For the land's sake and for your own sake be on hand for the last day of the Parker land sale, 1 o'clock this afternoon. Thirty-six lots to be sold in about three hours. Come and see how it is done. Near Long street. More of the hand-painted china and steel document files to be distributed free.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Jones and son, Roy Jones, of Shelburne Falls, Mass., and J. C. Brock of New York City, who have been the guests of E. L. Smith of West street, have returned to their respective homes, after having attended the annual reunion of Co. G of the 6th Vermont regiment, which was held in Moretown early in the week.

Henry C. Batchelder of Plainfield, who is in charge of the new telephone exchange in that village, was in the city yesterday to obtain supplies for the central office. The Plainfield exchange is now furnishing connections to patrons over a comparatively large territory and appears to be supplying a service that is fully appreciated by users of the telephone.

Football fans in Barre who wish to enjoy their Saturday portion of the favorite autumn sport will have to go to Inter-city park to-day. Spaulding high school will meet Montpelier high through this afternoon and all signs point to one of the best games of the season. Coach "Hurry-up" Brown is authority for the statement that his eleven will give a good account of itself. Barclay is out of the game temporarily and his absence will be missed. Nichols is still on the injured list. Repeated efforts to match Goddard's team with a second team from Norwich or Vermont have failed and the hill-top eleven will rest to-day. Games have been arranged for succeeding Saturdays in October and November, with a strong possibility that a well known New Hampshire prep. school will be the appearance some Saturday next month.

Most of the Washington county farmers who have made reservations for the National Dairy show in Springfield, Mass., will leave to-morrow. Railroads throughout New England have made a dispensation in favor of the agriculturists by extending them a two-cent fare while the dairy show and the New England Agricultural and Industrial exhibit is in progress. County Agent F. H. Abbott will start for Springfield Sunday morning and the delegation from Williams-town, Barre Town and Orange county towns to the east and south will join another large party of farmers at Montpelier Junction. The list of farmers who are to attend has grown appreciably since the first returns were tabulated early in the week and it looks as though 75 Washington county men will be in Springfield. A majority of them plan to be absent until Wednesday or Thursday.

Notice to Users of City Water. The city system will be flushed out on Sunday, Oct. 15. Water will not be supplied between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. City of Barre Water Department.

The South Barre grange will hold its annual fair Oct. 18 and 19. Program each evening. Everybody invited—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Androlatti and daughters, Dorothy and Aurelie, of Plainfield avenue left this morning for Burlington, where they will visit friends for two weeks.

Plainfield visitors in Barre yesterday and to-day were John Ralston, Mrs. George Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perry, Mrs. Arthur Prescott and two children of East Montpelier visited friends in the city yesterday.

James Dickie came from his Sabine farm in Washington yesterday to furnish bail for Mac Shipman, who was recently convicted in city court of keeping a house of ill fame on River street. When counsel for the woman decided to carry the case to supreme court on exceptions, execution of sentence was stayed and the respondent was committed to jail. Some time last night the police were called to River street to lift the lid from trouble that was brewing, and this morning, when Dickie started back to the Sabine heights with Mac as his companion, the police had another skin to untangle. The woman refused to go with Dickie and made such a scene in Depot square that an officer took her to headquarters. Dickie, viewing with disgust the attitude of his friend, told the authorities that he would revoke the bail which he furnished yesterday. Miss Shipman is still detained at police headquarters.

A committee of local Foresters is completing plans for the reception of some 250 delegates to the annual convention of the high court of Vermont and New Hampshire, Independent Order of Foresters, which is to open in Barre Tuesday. Business session of the court will be held in the Knights of Columbus hall, and the public reception will take place in Howland hall, where George Mitchell of Toronto, Ont., assistant supreme ranger, is to deliver an address Wednesday evening. The Barre Board of Trade is co-operating with the Foresters' committee in making arrangements for entertaining the delegates, and the Board of Trade members will be much to the fore when the Foresters are taken to Graniteville and Websterville for the view of the quarries Wednesday morning. E. J. Cummings of Littleton, N. H., the chief ranger of the high court, will return to Barre Monday.
